

Steve Poizner to Contribute $15 Million to His Campaign for Governor

SACRAMENTO - Republican candidate for Governor Steve Poizner announced he will be contributing $15 million to his campaign and issued the following statement.

"California is in deep trouble and I truly believe there could be no better time to run for Governor. We have a once-in-a-generation opportunity to really fix and reform our state," said Commissioner Poizner. "As we look towards 2010, I know the Republican primary will be won based on which candidate presents clear, specific, and conservative solutions for solving California's economic problems. I will communicate my message of bold 10% tax cuts, a 10% reduction in state spending, creating a $10 billion rainy day fund, and I will cut our welfare spending so that it is in line with the national average or better. We have 30% of the nation's welfare recipients and only 12% of the population. That's change for the better and a message that I am confident will resonate with Republican voters."
