

Effort Begins to Send 1,000,000 Letters to President Obama

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 26 /Christian Newswire/ -- A campaign has begun to send President Barack Obama at least 1,000,000 letters to voice opposition to any government- run "healthcare" proposal. The effort is being coordinated by the Saint Catherine of Siena Company of Memphis, Tennessee.

"This 1,000,000 letters campaign is another way for Americans to voice their opposition to government- run 'healthcare'. This effort is an attempt to deliver a message to President Obama in a big kind of way," said Patrick Benedict, owner of the Saint Catherine of Siena Company.

The letter being sent to the White House is made of blue cardstock and is big (measuring 11" x 5 1/2"). The message on each letter is addressed to President Obama and is simple: "I do not want government-run "healthcare", and I request that every form of this type of proposal be rejected."

The cardstock letters are available in bulk quantities so people will have the opportunity to give them to family members, neighbors, etc. A person may order as few as 10 letters or as many as 500(or more) letters. Once a person receives one of the letters, he/she simply needs to sign it, put 44 cents of postage on it, and then mail it.

Ordering information is available at www.SaintCatherineOfSienaCompany.net Or, one may write to P.O. Box 41257; Memphis, Tennessee 38174.

"Within a few weeks, I hope the White House mail room is flooded with a sea of blue letters. I have already sent my letter to President Obama, and I hope at least one million other Americans will do the exact same thing," concluded Patrick Benedict.
